The coin here therefore constitutes the unique instance of a late medieval numismatic depiction of the Buddha and is therefore of utmost iconographic importance.

The southern part of Shivaji's kingdom centred on the hill fort of Gingee in Northern Tamilnadu or 'Carnatic'. Coins struck here often display a degree of crudeness in execution of Nagari letters, owing to the fact that local die-engravers were less familiar with the script.

One of the most glamorous Maratha coin, popularly known as the 'Ganapati-Pantapradhan rupee', was struck by the Patwardhans of Miraj to indicate their loyalty to the Peshwa by explicitly mentioning the Marathi version of his title on it. It is likely to have been struck when the Patwardhans were drawn into a conflict with the Chhatrapatis of Kolhapur during the late 18th century - the date 1202 which is most probably in the Fasli Era, corresponds to 1792AD.

Sold for : ₹ Estimate : ₹ 1,50,000 - 2,00,000

No gold coin of Radhanpur has ever been offered at an auction. The date on this coin corresponds to November 1914 - October 1915. The most significant event so far as the history of Radhanpur is concerned that took place during this period was Nawab Muhammad Jalaluddin's second wedding to H.H. Nawab Shah Begum Sahiba, daughter of Sardar Khan Mahmad Khan Sahib of Amritsar, which took place on 11th March 1915. The gold Koris were most likely struck to mark this occasion and to be used in courtly presentation rituals. In the denomination as well as the style, the Nawab appears to have sought inspiration from his kinsmen, the royal family of Junagarh.

Nawab Muhammad Jalaluddin Khan was a popular ruler. He did much to improve and expand education opportunities and to place the state finances on a firm footing, abolished internal customs dues and frequently remitted rent arrears by his poorer subjects.

Estimate : ₹ 1,50,000 - 2,00,000

According to Sarasan, the 'Anantharaya Varahan' was struck for the first time in Kollam Era 968 at Alleppey and subsequently at the Padmanabhapuram mint from KE976 onwards. This coin, with obverse design without lotus sprigs, is an extremely rare early variety of the Anantharaya Varahan coinage. It must have been struck over the reign of three issuers – Maharaja Karthika Thirunal Rama Varma (1758-98), Avittam Thirunal Bala Rama Varma (1798-1810) and Rani Gouri Lakshmi Bayi (1810-1815). In 1815 (Kollam Era 990), a major change in the design was introduced in the reign of Rani Gouri Lakshmi Bayi, when lotus sprigs were added to either side of the obverse figure.

 Sold for: ₹ Estimate : ₹ 30,000 - 40,000

This coin could well be one of the earliest series of 'Star' pagodas struck at Madras by the EIC, copying designs of French / Dutch 'Porto Novo' pagodas (see the pattern of wavy lines around the 'Swami'). It has better gold contents than the later, more degraded varieties and its execution is of a better standard. This is parallel to the development in the designs of silver Fanam issues of the EIC. In their case, too, we have the earlier coins of a finer fabric and better silver whereas the later coins show degradation of contents as well as of design. However, the 'Star' pagoda was a popular coin and it is likely that it was copied also by other colonial authorities, like the French, the Danish or the Dutch.

644. Madras Presidency, silver rupee, Madras mint, pseudo-mint name 'Arkat', first mechanised issue of 1807, 'open lotus' mint mark, Pr 247, clear signs of Spanish undertype on reverse, 11.92g. Very fine, Very rare.
 Sold for: ₹ Estimate : ₹ 7,000 - 8,000

The coinage of 1807 was brought into currency by a proclamation of 15th July 1807, which mentioned these coins “should be coined direct from imported Spanish dollars”. Many double rupees struck at the same time show clear traces of the undertype as the impressions were not well struck for larger coins, already hardened when fed into the press as blanks. For smaller coins, such as the rupees, the striking went well and undertypes were many types successfully obliterated. The fact that this coin shows the traces therefore makes it a seldom seen feature.

The copper coins of the 1803 series were struck at Birmingham by Matthew Boulton under contractual agreements. The dies for these coins were designed by John Philip, a young engraver. It was a common practice to cross the dies out when they were decommissioned and replaced. However, in this case, they appear to have been used to strike this coin even after cancellation which is a highly unusual and rare occurrence.

During the First World War, S.S. Egypt collided with a cargo steamer in thick fog north-west of France in May 1922. The Ship sank to a depth of 400 feet. It had in its cargo Gold valued at One Million Pounds. Lure of this bullion made treasure hunters attempt salvage operations. There were many instances of bounty hunters who attempted to salvage this gold and failed. One such group of salvage or treasure hunters formed a Company called 'SORIMA'. They hired a cargo ship called 'Artiglio' with the sole purpose of salvaging the One Million Pound worth of Gold in SS Egypt.

In June 1932, a team of divers on board the cargo ship 'Artiglio', were able to salvage the gold and along with it the unsigned notes of Hyderabad in denominations of 5, 10 & 100. There were a total of 1,65,000 notes of which after protracted negotiations through his advocates with 'Sorima', the Nawab of Hyderabad bought back 1,28,000 notes in July 1939. These bank notes were burnt in London. The remaining notes are either with collectors or are missing under the sea. These notes were printed by Waterlow & Sons.
