दक्षिणापथपति 'Dakshina-patha-pati'

An Important Collection of Ancient Coins from North-Central Deccan (Marathwada and Vidarbha), Belonging to the Post-Mauryan / Early Satavahana Period, c. 200-50 BC

This collection comprises of 142 coins of great historical significance that adds considerably to our knowledge of the History of ancient Maharashtra. It includes coins of hitherto unknown rulers and of interesting types. It includes several countermarked and counterstruck coins and fractional issues which open new vistas in understanding of Post-Mauryan, Pre-Satavahana and Satavahana history. A number of these coins may be from the recent find of coins at Pusad, dist. Yavatmal, Maharashtra – but a number of others are not. It is not possible to say which individual sites they were collected from but it is certain, from the types included, that they must have been picked up from the districts of Aurangabad, Akola, Buldhana, Yavatmal, Wardha and Nagpur. The coins are presented hereunder in eight classificatory groups, comprising of specimens related to each other through type characteristics and legends. The coins are described under 'Groups', some of them having a 'General type', with variations or interesting features listed for individual coins.

Group 1: 'Elephant' type coins with the legend Siri Sadavahana

These coins were attributed to a ruler named Satavahana thought to be the progenitor of the dynasty. Recent research has shown this to be wrong. The coins are issued by the dynastic name rather than an individual king's name during the period of Siri Satakani (100-50 BC), who was responsible for the firm establishment of Satavahana rule further East in Vidarbha, from his base in Western Maharashtra, in the regions around Junnar, Newase and Paithan.

Group 3:

Coins in this category are with legends Raño Siri Sadakamnisa which are counterstruck on coins with the legend Raño Siri Sadavahanasa, listed above as 'General Type 1'. The counterstriking appears to be indiscriminate with no order maintained between which device (obverse / reverse) is stamped on which. This has given rise to the varieties listed hereunder. The overtype is characterised by a very close style of palaeography and the similarity of the general features with the undertype. Thus, it appears that at a later instance, coins with the legend Siri Sadavahanasa were re-validated with a new legend and re-introduced into the circulation and there is no 'political statement' being made here. As king Satakani had a long reign, this is a plausible scenario.

Rev: Ujjain symbol, with concentric circles as orbs, one of which is modified as a Nandipada; symbols in the quadrants appear to be Shrivatsas and Swastikas, placed in diagonal alignment.

This coin is counterstruck on a coin of Suryamitra, a king of Vidarbha who preceded Siri Satakani. The coin thus confirms the presence of Satakani to the West of the realm of king Kharavela, who mentions in his Hathigumpha inscription that his armies marched to the West "without even thinking about Satakani". The coin therefore corroborates the inscriptional detail and is historically significant. One such coin was published by Ajaya Mitra Shastri, in 'Nidhi', vol. 1, 1990.

Group 5: Coins attributed to 'Mahagamika' of the Sangama family

These coins first featured in researches of V V Mirashi, who misread the legends as Saga Mana Mahasa and attributed them to a fictitious 'Saka' ruler 'Mana' of the 'Mahisha' country. His views were challenged by D C Sircar who contended that the legend on coins was far from complete and that the extant legend indicated they were issues of 'Sangama' or 'Sangrama' family. Notwithstanding the Sanskrit bias in his arguments, further discoveries proved Sircar to be right. Although more coins of this category are now known since the debates of Mirashi and Sircar, it is still difficult to find pieces which show the legend to its full extent. 'Mahagamika' was a feudatory title, literally meaning the 'Great Villager'.

Group 6: Coins attributed to a ruler named 'Sebaka'

Coins of this ruler were first brought to light by V V Mirashi, who contended them to be a dynastic issue. For most subsequent publications therefore refer to these with collective noun as 'coins of the Sebakas', however coins listed hereunder and in further groups indicate beyond doubt that Sebaka was one king in a dynastic group shared by other rulers.

Group 7: Coins of other rulers similar to 'Sebaka' issues

Coins of King Kukutakhada (कुकुटखाद)

The name 'Kukutakhada' refers to the cult of Skanda in ancient Maharashtra. It is a composite of 'Kukuta', meaning cockerel and 'Khāda', derived from Skānda स्कंद in Sanskrit, meaning a follower of Skanda. Some of these were first reported by A H Siddiqui as coins of the Vakatakas. But P P Kulkarni later corrected this attribution in light of fresh finds from the 'Pusad' aggregate.

Coin of King Viga (विग)

Group 8: Coins of Patalatoḷata (पातालतोळत), a lesser-known king from West Marathwada / East Vidrabha region

The coins of this ruler were first published by L B Verma in 'Numismatic Digest' but the legend was read as Patalatodata (पातालतोदत) and speculated to be a -Datta ending name, much like the Datta kings known from coins of Mathura or Tripuri. Prashant Kulkarni and others published further pieces from the Pusad aggregates in the 'Indian Coin Society Newsletter', contending the name to be Patalatarita (पातालतारीत). However, the legend quite clearly is Patalatoḷata (पातालतोळत) as evident from a number of coins offered here. On some coins, his name appears to be written as Patalatola (पातालतोल). The issuer has no royal appellation preceding his name.

This is by far the greatest number of coins of this rare and enigmatic ruler offered at a single instance. They are typologically related to 'Sebaka' type coins through their obverse and have a bold 'sunburst' symbol on reverse.

They are classified in two major varieties: Variety 1 has the centre of the Sun shown as two concentric circles, while Variety 2 has it represented as a solid centre. There are subtle differences on obverse also: Variety 1 coins have an arched hill before the bull while Variety 2 coins do not have it.

This coin of Patalatolata is clearly counterstruck on a Satavahana coin, belonging to Siri Satakani, similar to those listed in groups 1, 2 and 3 above. This is crucial to ascertain the chronological placement of Patalatolata, and also of the other rulers whose coins share a typological similarity with his issues. This coin proves that the Satavahanas do not appear to have had a 'free run' in their conquest of Central Maharashtra and Vidarbha – at least one ruler appears to have opposed them and ascertained his own right by counterstriking Satavahana coins. This coin is therefore of stellar historical importance.

Group 9: Coins of Kutapada (कूटपाद), a recently known ruler of ancient Maharashtra

Amongst all coins of the 'Dakshina-patha-pati' collection, those issued by Kutapada are most significant. A coin of this ruler was published first by Prashant Kulkarni reportedly found in the Pusad aggregate. But the varieties offered here make by far the most comprehensive collection of coins struck by this obscure ruler. They add considerably to our understanding of the political history of ancient Deccan.

The coins of Kutapada offered here belong to four different types: Bull (large coins), Gajalakshmi, Bull (small coins) and Elephant. The first two types link with 'Sebaka' type coins as they have the same reverse motif as of Sebaka, Kukutakhada and Viga. The other two types are, however, distinctly different.

Bull Type (large coins):

Sultans of Bengal

240. Sultans of Bengal, Ghiyath al-Din Bahadur Shah (1320-1324AD), Silver Tanka, Qasba Ghiyathpur Mint with an unread suffix, AH 722, 10.86g. Obv: Arabic legend in rectangle al-Sultan al-'Azam Ghiyath al-Dunya wa al-Din Abu al-Muzaffar Bahadur Shah al-Sultan bin Sultan. Rev: in centre al-Imam al-Must'asim Amir al-Mumineen; date and mint-name around, unlisted in G&G. Very Fine+, Extremely Rare.

Sold for : ₹

Estimate : ₹ 12,000 - 15,000

This coin clearly shows two words following the mint-name 'Qasba Ghiyathpur' which makes it a variety not listed by G&G. A similar coin was published in Mudranusilana by Samaresh Bandyopadhyay where he proposed to read the words as Min Zil Hajj, thus contending it to be the name of the month in which it was struck. However, the legend on this coin makes it absolutely clear that this is not a name of a month. What the words reads remains to be ascertained, but Farman bi-Dahr ("Lord of the World") is a possible rendering. The second word also looks very much 'Tirhut' and it is likely that the term qualifies the town of Ghiyathpur to be located in Tirhut, where Ghiyath al-Din Bahadur is known to have undertaken campaigns.

Sold for : ₹

Estimate : ₹ 7,00,000 - 10,00,000

The title al-Wathiq bi Allah al-Musata'an is not known on any other Sultanate coin. It means "the believer in Allah, the One whose help is sought". Allah al-Musata'an is a Quranic reference to Allah and occurs in the Quran at two instances - Verse 18 of Surat Yusuf (Chapter 12), and verse 112 of Surat al-Anbya (Chapter 21). The use of this title, along with the fact that it is a 'pedigree'-type gold Tanka, makes this coin truly exceptional.

This curious coin combines obverses of coins of two different rulers - the short-lived Sultan Muhammad Shah III, a.k.a. Miran Muhammad Shah Faruqi of Khandesh and Mahmud Shah III bin Latif. G&G list these obverses under G405 and G424, respectively. Both are rare issues. It is tempting to address this coin as a 'joint' issue of these two Sultans, however the political history of the period does not allow such an inference. Miran Muhammad Shah died en route to Gujarat and it is possible that the coin was struck in the Eastern part of Gujarat Sultanate bordering on Malwa.

Sold for : ₹ Estimate : ₹ 50,000 - 70,000

This coin, bearing the usual 'Ilahi' legends of Akbar's coinage of that type, has the word 'Sitpur' written in a curious way which makes it read 'Saimur'. 'Saimur' was the ancient Arabic name of the seaport of Chaul on the Konkan coast so some early numismatists attributed these coins to Chaul. However, when the coins were struck the name 'Saimur' had fallen out of fashion for a long time and Chaul was firmly in control of the Nizam Shahi Sultanate. The additional word 'Darb' which was the denominational term for a half Rupee is also interesting to have appeared on a full Rupee coin.

Similar coin was sold in CNG Auction 15 lot no. 114 @ 180000

Sold for : ₹ Estimate : ₹ 1,50,000 - 2,00,000

Mohurs struck to the heavy standard corresponded to 10-rupees as per Abu'l Fazal's record in Ain-i- Akbari. They are much rarer than the 9-rupee Mohurs. No gold is reported for Ujjain mint during Akbar's reign. Both these aspects make this coin a remarkable specimen. The mint-name appears to read al-Zarb Ujjain and the use of definitive article in the mint-name is attested in only one other mint in Akbar's coinage, which is Bang.

The birds on both sides of this coin are locked in 'hunt' in terms of design context. The falcon on the obverse swoops, with his wings close to his body to prey on the quail, shown cowering among the letters on the reverse. The spread-out talons of the falcon, ready to grasp the quail, are very clearly shown under his belly. On this coin the falcon is shown perched on a branch, looking back, indicating it has either accomplished the kill, or it is about swoop on his victim. This is a very rare variation, noticed so far only on a couple of pieces. The design might have had a connotation with Mughal campaigns against the Nizam Shahi Sultanate.
